

WORLD-FAMOUS COMEDIAN WHO IS TO BE IN PHOENIX

Sir Harry Lauder, with his company of 36 people, including the famous Highland pipers, will be at the Elks theater Tuesday, November 4, for matinee and night performance.

That this is an announcement of unusual importance will be at once admitted by everyone in this city and vicinity. Harry Lauder is without an equal in his peculiar line in the amusement world. He is the greatest box-office drawing card in two continents.

His coming to Phoenix is due to several circumstances, to all of which the people in this city may consider themselves obligated for the opportunity to see this international favorite.

Lauder's return to the United States at this time is an incident in his world tour which he inaugurated last season. He had originally intended sailing direct to England via the Suez Canal, but finding that impossible owing to the maritime strike, he yielded to the request of William Morris, his American manager, to sail for San Francisco. He is now on the ocean and will land at San Francisco Monday. On his way across the continent to New York where he will sail for England, Lauder will make a few stops and sing some of his songs for the people. Phoenix, fortunately, is to be one of those stops. With Lauder will come his company of 36 people, including the Highland pipers. There are six acts in the entertainment, Lauder being on the stage for one hour and a quarter.

Reserved seat sale for Harry Lauder will open Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock at the Elks theater.

Following is the program of the Lauder show, including the songs which he will sing in Phoenix:

Compiled by A. Raymond Wedel.

Three Kitamuras,

"The Act Beautiful."

MISS DANA PURCHASES CADILLAC

NEW CADILLAC PHAETON RECENTLY PURCHASED BY MISS L. DANA, OF PHOENIX

AIRPLANE TIRES HAVE BLOW OUTS ALL SAME AUTOS

Some time, in the years to come, when you have your wireless telephone receiver clapped to your car, and you hear the droning of hundreds of airplanes in the air above you, a sharp report may startle you. Don't worry—it is merely a tire on an airplane blowing out.

Yes—they do have tire trouble in the air. It does sound strange, but it is true. In fact, they have more tire trouble than we, who hide in automobiles on the ground.

When an airplane gets up ten or twelve thousand feet, the air pressure is low, and if the tires on the plane are inflated too much, they will blow out because there is not enough resistance outside to counterbalance the air pressure inside.

These are the facts as stated by Lieut. Col. R. S. Hartz, the "Round the Rim" flier who arrived in California last week. Colonel Hartz left Washington to fly around the rim of the continent. He has already covered the northern boundary of the United States, mapping the proper air routes to be followed by future aviators. He is piloting a huge Martin bombing plane, and carries a crew of four men, including himself.

Is Motorist, Too

Colonel Hartz is an ardent Oldsmobile enthusiast. On his arrival in Los Angeles an Olds eight was placed at his disposal, and he has used it in all his trips about the city. His plane is equipped with two Liberty V type motors, the highest development of the internal combustion engine to date. The Olds eight also uses a V type motor.

The colonel and his crew left Washington July 24, and have been going ever since. The objects of the trip are to prove the worth of the Liberty motors and to map an air route around the world. As a result of his trip Colonel Hartz has located landing places about 25 miles apart across the country.

The Martin bomber has a ground speed of 113 miles an hour, a wing spread of 71 feet 4 inches, and a length of 48 feet 8 inches.

The Liberty motors develop 875 horse power and the machine is equipped with special stabilizing devices, and you simply cannot get her into a spin, Colonel Hartz said.

"The eight-cylinder V type motor as used in the Oldsmobile eight has proved itself just as has the larger V type motor used in the Martin plane," continued the colonel.

"In fact, the big Liberty motor was developed from the V type eight, as used in the Oldsmobile and other eight."

"We expect to make the southern rim trip without trouble. The mechanics are now making minor adjustments and repairing wing splits, so that we can make fast time."

ACCLAIM ALBERT AT INSTITUTE BANQUET

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—King Albert of Belgium was acclaimed by 1,000 members of the American Iron and Steel Institute tonight at the Hotel Commodore, where he was the guest of the institute at dinner.

As the king, his son, Prince Leopold, and other members of the royal party entered the room, the diners jumped to their feet cheering and waving small Belgian flags.

When Judge Gary proposed a toast to the "greatest of all kings—the king of Belgium—and all his people," the steel men gave their royal guest three mighty cheers and a "tiger," which vibrated through the hotel.

King Albert arose in acknowledgment and offered a toast for the recovery of the precious health of the president of the United States.

Cattle Ranches Near Roosevelt Haul By Truck

The old Apache and Tonto Trails of Arizona are no better now than they have been in the past, but today a motor truck on pneumatic tires is making prompt hauls over these rocky defiles for a trio of ranches, totaling 70,000 acres, owned by the Barbour Brothers, near Roosevelt.

Formerly the trip on trucks equipped with solid tires, to Phoenix and return, involving 127 miles, required 13 hours, but now on Goodyear cord tires, this has been cut to 10 hours, and a gallon of gasoline, which formerly propelled the truck 3½ to 4 miles, now allows it to travel 7 miles, and the pneumatic tires have now delivered twice as much mileage as the discarded solids.

COTTON BROKER ARRESTED

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 24.—Charles G. Mulligan, a local cotton broker, tonight was arrested for the alleged embezzlement of $150,000 from a local bank. It is alleged that Mulligan borrowed the money on forged bills of lading for purported shipments of cotton from the south.

"I have always contended that it is the best way to treat milk. In such a way you preserve all that is pure and wholesome in it."
